INTERNAL PUBLICATIONS OFFICER'S RAVINGS – CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

Good grief! Not another one! Already? Time for a pre-Christmas update. Bah, humbug.

Adam Tennant, Internal Publications Officer – adamtennant@hotmail.com

ARTICLES

Yes, I need articles. Write about (almost) anything that is vaguely wargames related. C'mon you lazy bastards! Write something! Or else!

(these articles can be found on the warlords website in the warlords/club magazine section along with the Adobe Acrobat version of this erudite publication)

Games Survey

You remember that questionnaire you filled out detailing all the weird and wonderful game systems you play? What do you mean you couldn't be bothered to fill it out?!?! Well those committed individuals that did have allowed me to produce a list of games played at the club as promised last issue. If you have any additions/corrections please let me know.

INTERESTING STUFF

Histopedia: Ancient Armies, interactive CD-ROM encyclopaedia. The official web site is launched at: <http://www.histopedia.com/>.

Histopedia: Ancient Armies is a unique CD-ROM encyclopaedia featuring 106 ancient armies beginning from the first known states up to the fall of the Eastern and Western Roman Empires. It covers 3500 years of world's military history in all key regions including Far East.
